YEAR 8 ENQUIRY STEAM POWER, URBAN SQUALOR, IMPERIAL EXPANSION & THE BATTLE FOR DEMOCRACY

INDUSTRIALISATION, EMPIRE & POPULAR POWER (1750–1901)

Overarching Enquiry: “How did coal, steam, imperial conquest, and working-class resistance transform Britain from an agrarian kingdom into an industrial empire?”

PRIMARY VISUAL PLATE • WALTER CRANE (1886)

COLONIAL & INDIAN EXHIBITION • BRITISH LIBRARY

Walter Crane’s celebrated 1886 allegorical map visualising the global reach of the British Empire at its zenith, highlighting commercial trade routes, naval supremacy, and imperial federation.

THE 8 HISTORICAL ENQUIRIES ACROSS THIS UNIT • KNOWLEDGE CHECKLIST

1750–1901

ENQUIRY 1

What powered the Industrial Revolution?

- Transition from water wheels and charcoal to coal and Watt’s steam engine
- Henry Cort’s 1784 puddling furnace and grooved rolling mill at Funtley
- Naval trials at Portsmouth Dockyard; end of dependence on Baltic iron

ENQUIRY 3

Did industrialisation make towns unlivable?

- Rapid urbanisation: back-to-back housing, privies, and poisoned town wells
- The 1831–1854 cholera epidemics, miasma theory, and John Snow’s pump
- Edwin Chadwick’s 1842 Sanitary Report and the 1848 Public Health Act

ENQUIRY 5

How did India resist: 1857 Rebellion?

- Long-term grievances: Doctrine of Lapse, heavy taxation, and religious fears
- The catalyst at Meerut: Enfield rifle cartridges greased with cow and pig fat
- Sieges of Delhi and Cawnpore; retribution; 1858 Government of India Act

ENQUIRY 7

Why was the 1832 Reform Act passed?

- Electoral corruption: rotten boroughs (Old Sarum) vs unrepresented industrial cities
- The reform crisis of 1831–1832: Lords rejection, Bristol riots, and bank runs
- The 1832 Great Reform Act: enfranchising middle-class men; working-class exclusion

ENQUIRY 2

Was factory work progress or punishment?

- Shift from agrarian rhythms to relentless factory clock-discipline
- Textile machines: spinning mules, power looms, and extreme physical hazards
- Pauper apprentices, child labour exploitation, and early Factory Acts

ENQUIRY 4

How was the British Empire built?

- The Two-Power Naval Standard and Portsmouth industrial dry docks
- The East India Company: corporate monopoly, private armies, and tea trade
- Global trade circuits: Indian cotton, Caribbean sugar, and British shipping

ENQUIRY 6

How did ordinary people fight for a voice?

- Post-Waterloo economic depression, Corn Laws, and universal suffrage demands
- The 16 August 1819 peaceful meeting of 60,000 at St Peter’s Field, Manchester
- Manchester Yeomanry sabre charge; 18 dead; passage of the repressive Six Acts

ENQUIRY 8

Who truly benefited from industrialisation?

- The Optimist school (Clapham, Ashton): real wages, consumer goods, and railways
- The Pessimist school (Hammonds, Thompson): slum mortality, pollution, alienation
- Synoptic historical verdict: weighing economic gains against human suffering

HOW TO WRITE LIKE A HISTORIAN

4 GOLDEN RULES & CONNECTIVES

THE 4 GOLDEN RULES OF EXTENDED WRITING:

1. Direct Thesis: Clear answer in sentence 1.
2. Specific Evidence: Names, dates, acts & data.
3. Causal Mechanics: Explain why & how.
4. Evaluative Balance: Weighted judgement.

HIGH-IMPACT ANALYTICAL CONNECTIVES:

Causation: Consequently • Precipitated by • Directly resulted in Nuance & Evaluation: Conversely • While ostensibly... in reality • Decisively

THE 4 BIG STORYLINES TO TRACK

CORE HISTORICAL THEMES

1. Technology, Energy & Infrastructure: Cort’s puddling → Watt’s steam engine → Railways & Crystal Palace (L1, L2, L8)
2. Labour, Slums & Public Health: Factory clock & child labour → Chadwick’s Report → 1848 Health Act (L2, L3, L8)
3. Imperial Command & Armed Resistance: Two-Power Standard & EIC → 1857 Indian Uprising → Crown Raj (L4, L5)
4. Popular Protest & The Franchise: Peterloo Massacre → 1832 Reform Act → Chartist Petitions (L6, L7)

Timeline Mission: In each lesson, turn back to this double-page spread to illustrate the milestone sketchpad with your visual symbol and key notes.

Chronological Spine •
Facing Left

1784 Milestone 1: Henry Cort & The Metallurgical Revolution

1784 • Puddling Furnace & Grooved Rollers

Lesson 1

At Funtley Ironworks near Fareham, Hampshire, Henry Cort patents the reverberatory puddling furnace and grooved rolling mill. By transforming brittle pig iron into tough naval wrought iron without charcoal, Cort shatters reliance on Baltic iron, powering the steam revolution.

c.1780–1830 Milestone 2: The Factory System & Clock Discipline

c.1780–1830 • Clock Discipline & Textile Mills

Lesson 2

James Watt's rotary steam engine and Richard Arkwright's textile mechanisation shift labour from cottage hearths into steam mills. Workers, including thousands of pauper children, face 14-hour days governed by the relentless factory clock and mill fines.

1819 Milestone 3: The Peterloo Massacre & Demands for the Vote

16 August 1819 • Peterloo Massacre & Six Acts

Lesson 6

60,000 peaceful working-class men, women, and children gather at St Peter's Field, Manchester, demanding parliamentary reform and the repeal of the Corn Laws. Terrified magistrates send the Manchester Yeomanry charging sabres drawn into the crowd, killing 18 and injuring 650.

1832 Milestone 4: The Great Reform Act & Rotten Boroughs

June 1832 • Rotten Boroughs & 1832 Act

Lesson 7

Following nationwide riots, burning castles, and the "Days of May" run on the banks, Parliament passes the Great Reform Act. 56 rotten boroughs like Old Sarum are disenfranchised, giving MPs to industrial cities like Manchester, but the vote is restricted to middle-class men.

Timeline Check: How did steam power, coal, and Henry Cort's iron breakthrough transform Britain from a rural agrarian nation into the "Workshop of the World"?

1842 Milestone 5: Edwin Chadwick's Sanitary Report & Slum Mortality

July 1842 • Sanitary Report & Public Health Lesson 3

Edwin Chadwick's 1842 Sanitary Report reveals that the average labourer lifespan in Manchester is just 17 years due to overflowing cesspools, contaminated wells, and typhus. Recurring cholera epidemics compel Parliament to pass the landmark 1848 Public Health Act.

1851 Milestone 6: The Great Exhibition & The Living Standards Debate

May 1851 • Crystal Palace & Standard of Living Lesson 8

Queen Victoria and Prince Albert open the Great Exhibition in the Crystal Palace, showcasing Britain as the "Workshop of the World". While Optimist historians celebrate cheap consumer goods and railways, Pessimists point to persistent slum misery and physical degradation.

1857 Milestone 7: The Indian Rebellion & The End of Company Rule

May 1857 • 1857 Rebellion & Crown Raj Lesson 5

Indian sepoy at Meerut revolt against East India Company rule, triggered by grease on Enfield rifle cartridges and deep resentment over the Doctrine of Lapse. The fierce conflict ends Company rule in 1858, transferring direct sovereign control to the British Crown.

1886 Milestone 8: High Imperial Hegemony & Walter Crane's Map

1886 • Imperial Federation & Royal Navy Lesson 4

At the zenith of Victoria's reign, Walter Crane publishes the Imperial Federation Map, showing British dominion across a quarter of the globe. Imperial expansion is maintained through the Royal Navy's Two-Power Standard and fortified dockyards like Portsmouth.

Timeline Check: Why did economic growth create intense social conflict, leading to the 1832 Reform crisis and the 1857 Indian Rebellion?

Turn overleaf for Lesson 1 (Pages 4–5) →

Enquiry 1: How significant was Henry Cort’s puddling process to British industrial and naval supremacy?

CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Explain how coal and Watt’s steam engine replaced the domestic system and water power.
- Analyse how Henry Cort’s puddling and rolling processes at Funtley transformed brittle pig iron into tough naval wrought iron, evaluating surviving physical archaeology along the River Meon.
- Evaluate the relative importance of Portsmouth Dockyard’s location versus technological genius in Cort’s success.

TASK 1: ‘DO NOW’ RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What military structure did William the Conqueror build across England after 1066 to intimidate the Anglo-Saxons?

Q2: What deadly pandemic struck England in 1348, wiping out over a third of the population?

Q3: What religious movement did Martin Luther launch in 1517 that divided European Christianity?

Q4: What major naval invasion fleet sent by Philip II of Spain was defeated by England in 1588?

Q5: What was the difference between a primary source and a secondary interpretation?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Distinguish between brittle high-carbon pig iron and tough low-carbon naval wrought iron refined at Funtley:

TASK 3: THE METALLURGICAL REVOLUTION: DOMESTIC INNOVATION VS FOREIGN DEPENDENCY

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

FUNTLEY INNOVATION: CORT’S PUDDLING & GROOVED ROLLERS (1784)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

NAVAL & INDUSTRIAL IMPACT: SHATTERING THE BALTIC IRON BOTTLENECK

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain how Henry Cort’s breakthrough transformed British iron manufacturing and naval security:

Notice that Portsmouth Dockyard master smiths proved Cort’s iron matched Swedish Orgrounds iron without imports.

★ Scholar’s Edge: How did domestic iron production protect Britain from naval defeat during the Napoleonic Wars?

Enquiry: How significant was Henry Cort's puddling process to British industrial and naval supremacy?

Enquiry 2: Was industrial work a triumph of human progress or a catastrophe of punishment for the working class?

CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Explain how steam-powered factories replaced domestic handcraft with machine discipline and child exploitation.
- Analyse how the Fareham Red Brick Boom connected local Hampshire clay pits to national imperial architecture like the Royal Albert Hall.
- Evaluate whether the Industrial Revolution was primarily human punishment or societal progress using the Optimist vs. Pessimist debate.

TASK 1: 'DO NOW' RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What Hampshire ironworks did Henry Cort lease in 1775 to develop his naval iron innovations?

Q2: What two metallurgical processes did Henry Cort patent in 1783–1784 that transformed brittle pig iron into tough naval wrought iron?

Q3: Why was Portsmouth Royal Navy Dockyard the primary customer for Henry Cort's iron?

Q4: Which Scottish engineer patented the separate condenser in 1769, allowing steam engines to produce rotary motion anywhere coal was available?

Q5: What financial scandal ruined Henry Cort in 1789 despite his world-changing innovations?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Write one historically accurate sentence connecting the mechanised pug mill to the mass production of durable Fareham Red bricks:

TASK 3: THE INDUSTRIAL LABOUR BALANCE SHEET: ECONOMIC PROGRESS VS HUMAN PUNISHMENT

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

THE CASE FOR PROGRESS (FACTORY OWNERS & NATIONAL WEALTH)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

THE WORKING-CLASS REALITY (HARSH DISCIPLINE & CHILD LABOUR)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain whether industrial work was primarily an engine of human progress or a system of punishment:

Contrast the higher cash wages and factory goods with 14-hour days, dangerous machines, and mill fines.

★ Scholar's Edge: How did E.P. Thompson argue that industrialisation destroyed traditional rhythms of human labour?

Enquiry: Was industrial work a triumph of human progress or a catastrophe of punishment for the working class?

INDEPENDENT ARGUMENT

1. WHAT CHANGED?

Explain how daily life changed when workers moved from cottage farming to long hours ruled by the factory clock and loud machines.

2. WHAT STAYED THE SAME?

Explain what stayed the same: dangerous physical work, long shifts, and children working hard in brickworks and textile mills.

3. WAS IT PROGRESS?

Give your judgment: did cheaper goods and higher national wealth make up for the harsh and dangerous working conditions?

Sentence Starters & Connectives: A major change for workers was... • However, conditions stayed the same because... • On the one hand... • On the other hand... • Overall, I judge that...

[P] Point: Clear direct answer to enquiry. [E] Evidence: Specific names, dates, acts & data. [E] Explanation: Causal mechanism (why & how). [L] Link: Evaluative conclusion.

Handwriting practice lines consisting of 20 horizontal lines.

- Explain how rapid urbanisation, back-to-back housing, and cesspools created lethal conditions in industrial cities.
- Analyse how King Cholera and the 1858 Great Stink shattered laissez-faire ideology, leading to Bazalgette's sewer network.
- Evaluate the historical debate between Optimists and Pessimists regarding the living standards of the Victorian working class.

TASK 1: 'DO NOW' RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What Fareham ironmaster patented the revolutionary puddling and rolling processes in 1783–1784?

Q2: What was the decisive metallurgical difference between brittle pig iron and tough wrought iron?

Q3: Name the local Hampshire geological clay formation that allowed Fareham to manufacture over 20 million bricks annually.

Q4: What landmark 1832 parliamentary report documented 14-hour working days and corporal strapping of children in northern textile mills?

Q5: Which iconic Victorian landmark in London was constructed using high-durability Fareham Red bricks?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Complete the sentences using the core terms:

Victorian reformers believed disease spread through foul [], but Chadwick proved that municipal [] was essential to eradicate urban cholera epidemics.

TASK 3: THE URBAN SANITARY CRISIS: STATISTICAL INDICTMENT VS LAISSEZ-FAIRE INERTIA

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

CHADWICK'S STATISTICAL INDICTMENT (1842 SANITARY REPORT)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

LAISSEZ-FAIRE RESISTANCE & URBAN REALITY (RATEPAYERS & LANDLORDS)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain why living conditions in Victorian industrial towns were so deadly and difficult to reform:

Examine the 17-year life expectancy in Manchester compared to 38 years in the countryside.

★ Scholar's Edge: Why did the widespread belief in "miasma" (bad air) delay clean drinking water and germ theory?

Enquiry: How useful are Sources A and B for investigating living conditions in Victorian industrial towns?

Enquiry 4: Was the expansion of the British Empire primarily driven by naval military power or commercial profit?

CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Explain how mercantilist trade networks and the East India Company extracted wealth and raw materials.
- Analyse how Portsmouth Royal Dockyard and steam industrial technology sustained the Royal Navy's global supremacy.
- Evaluate the impact of British imperial rule on colonized peoples, contrasting corporate profits with indigenous de-industrialisation.

TASK 1: 'DO NOW' RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What lethal waterborne bacterial disease caused four major epidemics in 19th-century British industrial towns?

Q2: What was the erroneous Victorian medical theory that epidemic diseases were caused by poisonous foul air?

Q3: What 1858 environmental disaster in London forced Parliament to abandon laissez-faire and fund modern sewers?

Q4: Who was the chief civil engineer who designed London's revolutionary 1,100-mile underground intercepting sewer network?

Q5: What was the name given to the unventilated, high-density slum houses that shared three walls with adjoining properties?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Distinguish between corporate commercial expansion (East India Company) and state naval deterrence (Two-Power Standard):

TASK 3: PILLARS OF IMPERIAL EXPANSION: ROYAL NAVY FIREPOWER VS CORPORATE TRADE

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

NAVAL SUPREMACY & STRATEGIC COALING (THE ROYAL NAVY)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

COMMERCIAL EXTRACTION & CORPORATE MONOPOLIES (EAST INDIA COMPANY)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

🔥 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain whether the British Empire was built primarily by naval firepower or commercial profit:

Think about how commercial posts at Surat and Calcutta depended on the Royal Navy guarding sea lanes.

★ Scholar's Edge: Did Britain acquire its empire through deliberate state strategy or "in a fit of absence of mind"?

Enquiry: Was the expansion of the British Empire primarily driven by naval military power or commercial profit?

INDEPENDENT ARGUMENT

1. WARSHIPS & NAVAL POWER

Explain how the Royal Navy and dockyards like Portsmouth helped Britain conquer lands, guard trade routes, and defeat rivals.

2. TRADE & MAKING MONEY

Explain how merchants and companies like the East India Company expanded the empire to make huge profits from tea, spices, and textiles.

3. WHICH MATTERED MORE?

Give your judgment: was the British Empire built mainly by military warships, or was the search for trade and profits more important?

Sentence Starters & Connectives: The Royal Navy was vital because... • At the same time, trade drove expansion because... • However, without warships... • Overall, the main driving force was...

[P] Point: Clear direct answer to enquiry. [E] Evidence: Specific names, dates, acts & data. [E] Explanation: Causal mechanism (why & how). [L] Link: Evaluative conclusion.

Handwriting practice lines consisting of 20 horizontal lines.

Teacher Assessment: Effort: [1 • 2 • 3 • 4 • 5] Knowledge: [1 • 2 • 3 • 4] Analysis: [1 • 2 • 3 • 4] PEEL: [P] • [E] • [E] • [L]

TIMELINE MISSION • PAGES 2-3: Illustrate Milestone 8 on Page 3: Sketch the Royal Navy naval ensign, an East Indiaman, or Portsmouth Dockyard. Pages 2-3 →

Enquiry 5: Explain the sequence of events that transformed a military mutiny in Meerut into the 1857 Indian Rebellion.

CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Explain the deep structural grievances (Doctrine of Lapse, taxation) and immediate spark (Enfield rifle) of the 1857 uprising.
- Analyse the major turning points, including the capture of Delhi, the leadership of Rani Lakshmibai, and the brutality of reprisals.
- Evaluate the historiographical debate between colonial British and modern Indian interpretations of the rebellion.

TASK 1: 'DO NOW' RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What private joint-stock corporation ruled vast territories of India and maintained its own army until 1858?

Q2: What Hampshire naval facility was the largest industrial manufacturing complex in the 19th-century world?

Q3: Name Britain's revolutionary 1860 iron-hulled warship that made wooden fleets obsolete overnight.

Q4: What economic term describes the destruction of India's handloom weaving industry by cheap British factory cloth?

Q5: What was the naval doctrine requiring the Royal Navy to equal or exceed the combined size of the next two strongest fleets?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Write one historically accurate sentence connecting the aggressive annexation policy of the Doctrine of Lapse to the grievances of Indian sepoys in 1857:

TASK 3: THE 1857 REBELLION FACTOR MATRIX: LONG-TERM OPPRESSION VS SHORT-TERM SPARK

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

LONG-TERM GRIEVANCES: DOCTRINE OF LAPSE, HEAVY TAXES & ANNEXATIONS

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

SHORT-TERM CATALYST: ENFIELD CARTRIDGES & THE MEERUT MUTINY

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

🔥 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain the sequence of causal factors that turned a military mutiny into a nationwide rebellion:

Notice that Hindu and Muslim sepoys united when their religious beliefs were disregarded by British commanders.

★ Scholar's Edge: Why do modern Indian historians term 1857 the "First War of Independence" rather than the "Sepoy Mutiny"?

Enquiry: Explain the sequence of events that transformed a military mutiny in Meerut into the 1857 Indian Rebellion.

INDEPENDENT ARGUMENT

1. WHY ANGER BOILED OVER

Explain why people in India were angry: the British taking over kingdoms and soldiers fearing greased cartridges offended their religion.

2. HOW THE REBELLION SPREAD

Explain how a soldiers’ mutiny at Meerut quickly grew into a massive rebellion joined by princes and ordinary people across northern India.

3. WHAT HAPPENED NEXT?

Explain how Britain crushed the rebellion with harsh punishment, abolished the East India Company, and gave direct control to Queen Victoria.

Sentence Starters & Connectives: Anger first broke out because... • This quickly spread across India when... • The turning point came when... • As a result, the British government decided to...

[P] Point: Clear direct answer to enquiry. [E] Evidence: Specific names, dates, acts & data. [E] Explanation: Causal mechanism (why & how). [L] Link: Evaluative conclusion.

Handwriting practice lines consisting of 20 horizontal lines.

Enquiry 6: How useful are Sources A and B for investigating the events and significance of the Peterloo Massacre (1819)?

CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Explain the causes and violent aftermath of the 1819 Peterloo Massacre and the repressive Six Acts.
- Analyse the Hampshire Swing Riots of 1830 and the legal trial of the 1834 Tolpuddle Martyrs.
- Evaluate the methods and historical legacy of the Chartist movement between 1838 and 1848.

TASK 1: 'DO NOW' RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What new military rifle's greased cartridge sparked the 1857 Indian Rebellion?

Q2: What 250-year-old corporation's rule over India was terminated by Parliament in 1858?

Q3: Who was the symbolic monarch restored by rebel sepoys in Delhi in May 1857?

Q4: What female warrior queen became an enduring national legend during the Siege of Jhansi?

Q5: What term describes the era of direct British Crown governance over India between 1858 and 1947?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Complete the sentences using the core terms:

When 60,000 peaceful protestors gathered to demand the [], the panicked magistrates unleashed cavalry and subsequently passed the repressive [].

TASK 3: ST PETER'S FIELD BALANCE SHEET: PEACEFUL REFORMERS VS ELITE TERROR

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

THE REFORMERS' PEACEFUL DEMANDS (ORATOR HUNT & 60,000 COMMONS)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

THE MAGISTRATES' VIOLENT PANIC (MANCHESTER YEOMANRY CAVALRY)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

👉 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain why the authorities responded to the peaceful Peterloo demonstration with lethal cavalry violence:

Consider how terrified the ruling class was of a French-style revolution in post-Napoleonic Britain.

★ Scholar's Edge: How did the Peterloo Massacre lead directly to the oppressive Six Acts and later parliamentary reform?

"The magistrates observed the vast multitude assembling with banners of a most revolutionary character, marching in military array to bugle signals. Deeming the town of Manchester in imminent danger of immediate rebellion and plunder, the Riot Act was duly read. The civil constables being surrounded and overpowered, the Manchester Yeomanry were commanded to disperse the unlawful assembly."

Notice the magistrates justify their charge by claiming the town was in danger of immediate French-style rebellion.

Sentence Starters & Connectives: Source A claims the demonstration was disciplined and peaceful, stating... • In direct contradiction, Source B asserts... • When evaluating Provenance, the Magistrates were motivated to... • Overall, Source B is invaluable for revealing...

Pages 2-3 →

Enquiry 7: Why was the Great Reform Act passed in 1832? Was it conceded out of fear of revolution or granted as a principled reform?

CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Explain the corruption of the unreformed electoral system (Rotten Boroughs, pocket boroughs, open hustings).
- Analyse the 1832 Great Reform Act as a tactical compromise between aristocrats and the middle class.
- Evaluate how the 1872 Secret Ballot Act and the 1867/1884 Reform Acts laid the foundations for mass democracy.

TASK 1: 'DO NOW' RETRIEVAL PRACTICE

Score: / 5

Q1: What 1819 event saw 18 peaceful reform demonstrators killed by cavalry sabres in Manchester?

Q2: What mythical leader's name was signed to threatening letters sent by farmworkers smashing threshing machines in Hampshire in 1830?

Q3: Where were the six Dorset farmworkers known as the Tolpuddle Martyrs transported in 1834?

Q4: Name the 1838 working-class movement that published a six-point petition demanding universal male suffrage.

Q5: What was the term for the Chartist strategy that advocated peaceful moral persuasion and parliamentary petitions?

TASK 2: CORE DISCIPLINARY VOCABULARY

Historical Literacy

Distinguish between a depopulated Rotten Borough (e.g. Old Sarum) and an aristocratic landowner-controlled Pocket Borough:

TASK 3: THE 1832 REFORM DEADLOCK: ROTTEN BOROUGH CORRUPTION VS POPULAR MOBILISATION

Extract 3 key pieces of factual evidence into each column, then develop your argument below:

ROTTEN BOROUGHS & DISENFRANCHISED CITIES (PRE-1832 SQUALOR)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

POPULAR PRESSURE & THE "DAYS OF MAY" (RIOTS & BANK RUNS)

Point 1:

Point 2:

Point 3:

 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Explain whether the 1832 Reform Act was granted as a principled reform or conceded out of terror of revolution:

Notice that Old Sarum had 2 MPs with 3 voters, while Manchester and Birmingham had 0 MPs.

★ Scholar's Edge: Why did Earl Grey claim he reformed Parliament "in order to preserve" the power of the aristocracy?

Enquiry: Why was the Great Reform Act passed in 1832? Was it conceded out of fear of revolution or granted as a principled reform?

INDEPENDENT ARGUMENT

1. FEAR OF VIOLENT RIOTS

Explain how working-class riots, burned castles, and threats to pull all money from banks pushed Britain close to a revolution.

2. THE GOVERNMENT’S PLAN

Explain why politicians passed the Act: giving the vote to middle-class men to keep them happy and stop them joining with workers.

3. WHAT WAS THE REAL REASON?

Give your judgment: did politicians pass the 1832 Act because they believed in democracy, or because they were scared of a civil war?

Sentence Starters & Connectives: One main reason for the Reform Act was... • Politicians were especially scared when... • On the other hand, the government wanted to... • In conclusion, Parliament only acted because...

[P] Point: Clear direct answer to enquiry. [E] Evidence: Specific names, dates, acts & data. [E] Explanation: Causal mechanism (why & how). [L] Link: Evaluative conclusion.

Handwriting practice lines consisting of 20 horizontal lines.

Enquiry 8: Who truly benefited from the Industrial Revolution? Evaluate the competing claims of the Optimists and the Pessimists.

- CORE LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
- Analyse the "Optimist" argument using quantitative data on wages, public health, and technological innovation.
 - Analyse the "Pessimist" argument regarding working-class slum squalor, alienation, and colonial economic extraction.
 - Synthesize competing historiographical interpretations into a rigorous, balanced capstone enquiry essay.

Point 3: _____ _____	Point 3: _____ _____

🔥 Task 3: Developing Your Argument: Evaluate whether the Industrial Revolution improved or diminished the quality of life for the British working class:

Distinguish between purely economic statistics (real wages) and lived human experience (health, family, dignity).

★ Scholar's Edge: How do Eric Hobsbawm and T.S. Ashton differ on the standard of living between 1780 and 1840?

Enquiry: Who truly benefited from the Industrial Revolution? Evaluate the competing claims of the Optimists and the Pessimists.

EDEXCEL PAPER 3 PREP

INTERPRETATION 1: PROFESSOR T.S. ASHTON, THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION (1948)

THE OPTIMIST PERSPECTIVE

“There are today in Britain more people who are fed, clothed, and housed better than their ancestors were. By 1850, the real wages of factory operatives had risen by at least 30%. Steam machinery made cotton clothes, pottery, soap, and tea accessible to ordinary families for the first time. The central fact of the Industrial Revolution is that it enabled Britain to support a surging population without mass famine.”

Scholar: T.S. Ashton, Economic Historian, London School of Economics

INTERPRETATION 2: E.P. THOMPSON, THE MAKING OF THE ENGLISH WORKING CLASS (1963)

THE PESSIMIST PERSPECTIVE

“The average working man remained very close to subsistence level at the very time when he was surrounded by evidence of colossal national wealth. What the worker suffered was not just economic exploitation, but a catastrophic destruction of his independence, family life, and health. Men, women, and children were enslaved to the unyielding factory clock, breathing poisonous dust and dying in filthy slums.”

Scholar: E.P. Thompson, Social Historian & Author

1. THE OPTIMIST ARGUMENT

Extract Ashton’s evidence: 30% rise in real wages, affordable tea, cotton clothing, and avoidance of demographic famine.

2. THE PESSIMIST ARGUMENT

Extract Thompson’s evidence: destruction of human independence, family breakdown, 14-hour clock discipline, and deadly slums.

3. SYNTHESIS & VERDICT

Formulate your sustained verdict: did the long-term material gains justify the acute generational trauma suffered by the working class?

Sentence Starters & Connectives: Interpretation 1 advances the Optimist case, arguing that... • Conversely, Interpretation 2 presents a devastating critique, asserting... • Weighing the historiographical debate, while Ashton proves real wages rose, Thompson rightly highlights... • Overall, I judge that...
