Specification Checklist & Inquiries

Done	Key Topic 2: The Escalation of Conflict (1964–73)	Core Inquiry Question
☐	The origins and actions of the PLO, and the increasing tension between Arab states and Israel.	Why did Palestinian resistance become more organized and militant?
☐	The Six-Day War (1967): causes, events, and profound consequences for the territorial shape of Israel.	How did Israel dramatically expand its borders in 1967?
☐	The Yom Kippur War (1973) and the use of the oil weapon by Arab states.	How did Arab states use surprise and economics to pressure Israel and the West?

TOPIC 2.1: THE SIX DAY WAR

CURRICULUM SPECIFICATION CHECKLIST (PEARSON EDEXCEL)

- ☐ The significance of the Cairo Conference (1964).
- ☐ Escalating tension between Israel, Syria and Jordan: Syria's support for Fatah, Israel's raid on Samu and events of 7 April 1967.
- ☐ The actions of the USSR, Nasser and the USA in the period leading to war.
- ☐ Key events of the war.

PLO Charter (1964)

"Palestine is the homeland of the Arab Palestinian people. The establishment of Israel is illegal and null. Armed struggle is the only way to liberate Palestine."

Nasser Speech (22 May 1967)

"We have expelled the UN forces. The Straits of Tiran are closed. Under no circumstances will we allow the Israeli flag to pass through the Gulf of Aqaba. If Israel wants war, we are ready."

Levi Eshkol Statement (June 1967)

"The blockade of the Straits is a clear act of aggression. Surrounded by armies mobilized for our destruction, we had no choice but to strike first to secure our survival."

UN Resolution 242 (Nov 1967)

"The fulfillment of Charter principles requires the establishment of a just peace which should include: (i) Withdrawal of Israel armed forces from territories occupied in the recent conflict; (ii) Termination of all claims of belligerency."

Cairo Conference 1964 Arab League summit that founded the PLO and initiated water diversion plans.

PLO Palestine Liberation Organization, founded to coordinate national resistance.

Jordan River Waterway whose headwaters were contested in the border water wars.

Samu Raid Devastating 1966 Israeli reprisal raid in the Jordanian-controlled West Bank.

MiG fighters Soviet jet fighters flown by Syria, six of which were shot down in April 1967.

Straits of Tiran Egyptian waterway closed by Nasser in May 1967, blockading Eilat port.

Operation Focus Israel's preemptive airstrike on 5 June 1967 that destroyed Arab air capabilities.

Sinai Peninsula Vast Egyptian desert territory captured by Israel.

Gaza Strip Densely populated coastal strip captured from Egypt.

West Bank Territory captured from Jordan, placing 1 million Palestinians under military rule.

Golan Heights Strategic high ground captured from Syria in northern Israel.

Preemptive Strike A military strike launched to prevent an expected imminent attack by an enemy.

1. How did water and the PLO increase tensions?

Tensions rose at the Cairo Conference in 1964, which established the PLO (Palestine Liberation Organization) to coordinate Palestinian resistance. Arab League states also agreed to divert the headwaters of the Jordan River to deny water to Israel's National Water Carrier, sparking frequent border skirmishes.

2. Why did border skirmishes escalate into crisis?

Syria actively backed Arafat's Fatah group, allowing guerrilla raids into northern Israel. The IDF responded with harsh reprisals, including the Samu Raid in Jordan in November 1966. Tensions escalated on 7 April 1967 when Israeli jets shot down six Syrian MiG fighters over Damascus during border artillery duels.

3. What events triggered the Six-Day War?

In May 1967, the USSR falsely warned Egypt that Israel was massing troops to invade Syria. Nasser expelled UN peacekeepers (UNEF) from Sinai, deployed 100,000 troops, and closed the Straits of Tiran to Israeli shipping, blockading the port of Eilat. Jordan signed a mutual defense pact with Egypt, creating an encirclement crisis.

4. How did Israel achieve such a rapid victory?

On 5 June 1967, Israel launched a preemptive air attack, Operation Focus, destroying 90% of the Egyptian air force on the ground. Secure in the air, the IDF fought a three-front war. In six days, Israel captured the Sinai Peninsula and Gaza Strip from Egypt, the West Bank and East Jerusalem from Jordan, and the Golan Heights from Syria. This massive victory established Israeli military dominance and created 300,000 new refugees.

Historical Interpretations: Contrasting Views

Interpretation 1: Michael Oren (Traditionalist / Self-Defense Focus)

"Israel was forced into a war of survival by a tightening ring of Arab aggression. Nasser's expulsion of UN peacekeepers, his massing of 100,000 troops on the border, and the illegal blockade of the Straits of Tiran were clear acts of war. Israel's pre-emptive strike on 5 June 1967 was a legitimate, necessary response to prevent its imminent annihilation."

Interpretation 2: Avi Shlaim (Revisionist / Opportunity Focus)

"Israel's military command knew that Egypt was not planning an imminent attack and utilized Nasser's rhetorical blunders as a golden opportunity to launch a pre-meditated war. By initiating the hostilities, Israel sought to crush the Arab militaries, expand its territorial borders, and establish undisputed regional hegemony in the Middle East."

Synthesis Tip: To secure high marks on the 1967 war, contrast the view that Israel faced a sudden existential crisis with the argument that Israel's military leaders saw Nasser's actions as a strategic opening.

Knowledge Check Tasks

- 1. PLO & Water Tensions: Outline the outcomes of the 1964 Cairo Conference.
- 2. Border Escalation: Explain the significance of the Samu Raid and the air clashes of 7 April 1967.
- 3. The May Catalyst: Analyze Nasser's actions in response to the Soviet warning.
- 4. Preemptive War: Explain the success of Operation Focus and list the five captured territories.

SELF-EVALUATION RUBRIC

- ☐ [] Answered in full, grammatically correct sentences.
- ☐ [] Included specific historical details (dates, names, events).
- ☐ [] Explained the connection between cause and consequence or narrative progression.

TOPIC 2.2: OCCUPIED TERRITORIES & PALESTINIAN MILITANCY

CURRICULUM SPECIFICATION CHECKLIST (PEARSON EDEXCEL)

- ☐ UN Resolution 242 and continued dispute over the Suez Canal.
- ☐ Palestinian refugees and the significance of the occupied territories: Golan Heights, Gaza Strip, West Bank, Sinai and East Jerusalem.
- ☐ The use of terrorism, Israel's response and international attitudes towards the Palestine issue: the PFLP airplane hijacks of 1970; Black September and the Munich Olympics.
- ☐ The expulsion of the PLO from Jordan (1970).

Khartoum Conference Resolution (Sept 1967)

"The Arab heads of state agree on non-compromise: no peace with Israel, no recognition of Israel, no negotiations with it, and adherence to the rights of the Palestinian people."

PFLP Spokesman Statement (1970)

"We hijacked these planes to show the world that we exist. Blowing them up at Dawson's Field proved that we will destroy the imperialist status quo until our homeland is freed."

King Hussein Radio Address (Sept 1970)

"The PLO has violated our laws, armed our streets, and threatened our state. We must restore order. Jordan will not tolerate a lawless state within our state."

Golda Meir Address to Knesset (1972)

"The slaughter of our athletes in Munich is an outrage against humanity. We will hunt down these murderers wherever they hide. There will be no sanctuary for terrorists."

UN Resolution 242 UN framework proposing 'Land for Peace' to resolve the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Three Nos Khartoum Conference declaration: No peace, No recognition, No negotiations with Israel.

War of Attrition Low-intensity artillery and border war between Egypt and Israel (1967–70).

Settlements Israeli civilian communities established in the occupied territories.

PFLP Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a Marxist militant faction of the PLO.

Dawson's Field Airstrip in Jordan where hijacked planes were blown up by the PFLP in 1970.

Black September 1970 civil war in Jordan resulting in the military expulsion of the PLO.

Lebanon State where the PLO relocated its military bases and headquarters after Jordan.

Munich Olympics 1972 games where Black September terrorists killed 11 Israeli athletes.

Wrath of God Covert Mossad campaign to assassinate those behind the Munich massacre.

Yasser Arafat Leader of Fatah who became chairman of the PLO in 1969.

Khartoum Conference 1967 Arab summit formulating the unified refusal to negotiate with Israel.

1. What were the consequences of Israel's new occupied territories?

Israel's capture of the West Bank, Gaza, Sinai, and Golan Heights put 1 million Palestinians under military rule. Over 300,000 new refugees fled, mostly to Jordan. In November 1967, the UN passed Resolution 242, proposing 'Land for Peace'—Israeli withdrawal in exchange for security and recognition. Arab states rejected this, issuing the Three Nos at the Khartoum Conference: No peace, No recognition, No negotiations. Low-level artillery duels across the Suez Canal erupted into the War of Attrition (1967–70). Meanwhile, Israel began building early Jewish settlements in the occupied lands.

2. Why did the PLO turn to international terrorism?

Disillusioned with Arab state armies, Palestinians turned to militant self-reliance. In 1969, Yasser Arafat's Fatah group took control of the PLO. Radical factions like the PFLP (Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine) resorted to international terrorism to publicize their cause. In September 1970, the PFLP hijacked four international airliners and forced three to land at Dawson's Field in Jordan. After releasing passengers, they blew up the empty planes on television, causing global shock.

3. How did the PLO's expulsion from Jordan affect the conflict?

The Dawson's Field incident threatened Jordan's sovereignty. King Hussein ordered his army to crush the PLO's state-within-a-state, sparking a brutal civil war in September 1970 known as Black September. Thousands of Palestinians were killed, and the PLO was expelled. The PLO relocated its headquarters to Lebanon, establishing base camps in South Lebanon ('Fatahland') and Beirut to continue operations.

4. What was the impact of the Munich Olympics massacre?

Seeking revenge, a PLO splinter group calling itself Black September kidnapped and murdered 11 Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympics in September 1972. The massacre horrified the world. Israel responded with air raids on refugee camps and launched Operation Wrath of God, a covert Mossad campaign that assassinated PLO operatives across Europe, escalating international security concerns.

Historical Interpretations: Contrasting Views

Interpretation 1: Yezid Sayigh (State Sovereignty / Legalist Focus)

"King Hussein's crackdown on the PLO in Black September was a necessary defense of Jordanian sovereignty. No sovereign state can tolerate an armed, foreign militia operating as a 'state-within-a-state', launching unauthorized raids into a neighbor, and hijacking international airliners onto its soil. King Hussein acted to prevent the total collapse of his kingdom."

Interpretation 2: Rashid Khalidi (Palestinian Nationalist Focus)

"Black September was a brutal, disproportionate assault by the Jordanian monarchy to suppress the legitimate Palestinian national resistance. By crushing the PLO and killing thousands of civilians in camps, Jordan chose its own dynastic survival over Arab solidarity, pushing the armed struggle into Lebanon and sowing the seeds of the civil war in Beirut."

Synthesis Tip: Compare how state-focused historians view Black September as a law-and-order necessity, whereas Palestinian historians analyze it as a tragic blow to their national liberation movement.

Knowledge Check Tasks

- 1. Resolution 242 & Deadlock: Explain the 'Land for Peace' formula and the 'Three Nos'.
- 2. Dawson's Field Incident: Describe the PFLP hijacking and its television impact.
- 3. Black September Civil War: Trace why King Hussein expelled the PLO to Lebanon.
- 4. Munich & Reprisals: Detail the 1972 Olympics massacre and Operation Wrath of God.

TOPIC 2.3: THE YOM KIPPUR WAR

CURRICULUM SPECIFICATION CHECKLIST (PEARSON EDEXCEL)

- ☐ Egyptian relations with Israel, the USA, the USSR and other Arab states.
- ☐ Israel's consolidation of control of the occupied territories.
- ☐ Key events of the Yom Kippur War (1973) and its aftermath.

Sadat Speech to Army Commanders (1972)

"We must break the deadlock. If we do not fight, the US will never pressure Israel to return Sinai. We do not seek total destruction; we seek a military foothold to force negotiations."

Agranat Commission Report (1974)

"Israeli command suffered from dangerous complacency. We believed the Bar-Lev Line sand fortifications were invulnerable and that Arab forces would never dare attack our defense."

OPEC Communiqué (Oct 1973)

"We have decided to reduce oil production by 5% monthly. Furthermore, we will ban all oil exports to any nation supporting the Zionist aggression until the occupied lands are returned."

Kissinger Memoirs (1973)

"The war threatened global economic collapse and nuclear war. We had to supply Israel to prevent its defeat, but then force both sides into a ceasefire to protect our oil interests."

Anwar Sadat Egyptian President who planned the surprise 1973 attack to break the diplomatic deadlock.

Bar-Lev Line Israel's 25-meter-high sand fortification along the Suez Canal.

Yom Kippur The holiest day in Judaism, when Egypt and Syria launched their surprise invasion.

Water Cannons High-pressure hose equipment used by Egypt to breach the sand walls of the Bar-Lev Line.

Operation Nickel Grass US military airlift that resupplied Israel with ammunition and replacement tanks.

OPEC Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries, which launched the oil embargo.

Oil Embargo Ban on oil sales to Western nations, quadrupling prices and causing economic panic.

Resolution 338 UN Security Council resolution that called for an immediate ceasefire in October 1973.

Shuttle Diplomacy Henry Kissinger's flights between Middle East capitals to negotiate troop withdrawals.

Golda Meir Israeli Prime Minister who faced severe public criticism for lack of war preparedness.

Moshe Dayan Israeli Defense Minister whose confidence was shattered by the initial Arab breakthroughs.

1. Why did Sadat seek a new war with Israel?

Anwar Sadat succeeded Nasser in 1970, inheriting a bankrupt economy and occupied Sinai. To break the diplomatic deadlock and force the US to mediate, Sadat planned a limited war. To court the US, he expelled 15,000 Soviet advisors in 1972. He built a military alliance with Hafez al-Assad of Syria and secured Saudi commitments to use the oil weapon.

2. How did Egypt and Syria achieve initial success?

Israel was complacent, trusting the Bar-Lev Line—a massive 25-meter sand fortification along the Suez Canal. On 6 October 1973, during the holy day of Yom Kippur, Egypt and Syria launched a coordinated surprise attack. Egyptian forces breached the sand wall using high-pressure water cannons, crossing the canal, while Syrian tanks swept into the Golan Heights, catching the IDF off guard.

3. How did Israel recover from the surprise attack?

After heavy initial losses, Israel mobilized. The war became a superpower proxy struggle: the US launched a massive military airlift (Operation Nickel Grass) to resupply Israel, while the USSR supplied Arab forces. With fresh armor, the IDF pushed Syria back and crossed the Suez Canal, encircling Egypt's Third Army.

4. What was the global impact of the Arab oil embargo?

To force a ceasefire, Arab oil states launched the OPEC Oil Embargo, cutting production and banning exports to the US and Netherlands. Global oil prices quadrupled, triggering economic chaos. The superpowers pressured both sides to accept UN Resolution 338. The war ended in a stalemate, but it restored Arab pride, shattered Israeli complacency, and forced the US to launch shuttle diplomacy.

Historical Interpretations: Contrasting Views

Interpretation 1: Abraham Rabinovich (Military / Strategic Focus)

"The 1973 war ended as an outstanding military victory for Israel. Despite being caught completely by surprise on their holiest day, the IDF demonstrated incredible tactical flexibility. Within days, they repelled the Syrian tanks, crossed the Suez Canal, and surrounded the Egyptian Third Army, proving that Arab states could not defeat Israel militarily."

Interpretation 2: William B. Quandt (Diplomatic / Political Focus)

"The Yom Kippur War was a major strategic success for Egypt. President Sadat never aimed to conquer Israel; his goal was to shatter the myth of Israeli invincibility and break the diplomatic deadlock. By crossing the canal and forcing superpower intervention, Sadat restored Arab pride and forced the United States to actively broker peace."

Synthesis Tip: In GCSE exams, distinguish between tactical military outcomes and long-term diplomatic consequences. Israel won the tactical battles, but Egypt achieved its political goals.

Knowledge Check Tasks

- 1. Sadat's Aims: Outline Sadat's diplomatic goals and his realignment.
- 2. Bar-Lev Line & Surprise: Detail the Yom Kippur attack and the sand wall breach.
- 3. Superpower Airlifts: Analyze the roles of the US and USSR in the war.
- 4. OPEC Oil Embargo: Explain how the oil weapon forced a ceasefire and withdrawal.
