

KS3: THE GREAT WAR (1914-1919)

How did a single spark in Sarajevo ignite a global conflict that transformed the modern world?

Name: _____

Class: _____

The Stubbington War Memorial, built in 1922 over the village pump on the green. Designed by the mother of the only woman commemorated, its unique wooden shelter stands as a powerful and poignant local reminder of the devastating human cost of the conflict on tight-knit communities.

L1: Why were young men so desperate to join the slaughter of 1914?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- ☐ Understand the short-term and long-term causes of WWI.
- ☐ Empathize with the young men volunteering in 1914.

Vocabulary Check

Write a short paragraph using at least FOUR of the vocabulary words below correctly.

Conscription | Pals Battalions | Propaganda | Historiography | Pragmatism

Q1. Part A: Core Factual Recall

1. What was the 'spark' that triggered the outbreak of the First World War in 1914?
2. Why did Great Britain desperately need volunteers to fight when war was declared?

Q2. Part B: Core Factual Recall (Continued)

3. Who were the 'Pompey Pals'?
4. What happened to the 1st Pompey Pals on September 3, 1916?

Q3. Part C: Key Features

Describe one feature of the European Alliance System in 1914. (2 marks)

Q4. Part D: Analyzing Propaganda Poetry

How does Jessie Pope use the metaphor of a 'game' to manipulate young men into joining the army? What reality is she deliberately hiding?

Q5. Part E: Source Analysis:

Study Source A and Source B. Which method of recruitment do you think was more effective in convincing a 16-year-old boy to lie about his age and enlist: the official government poster, or the threat of a white feather? Explain your reasoning.

Q6. Part F: Causal Matrix (Push vs. Pull Factors)

Categorize the following reasons for enlistment into "Push Factors" (negative things driving them away from home) and "Pull Factors" (positive things attracting them to the army): The threat of receiving a white feather, the promise of a shilling a day, grinding poverty at home, defending 'Brave Little Belgium', government propaganda.

Q7. Part X: Historical Interpretations

1. How does historian Catriona Pennell's view of WWI volunteers differ from the traditional view?
2. Explain what historian Gary Sheffield means when he suggests volunteers were motivated by "economic pragmatism."

Q8. Part X: The "Judgement & Nuance" Paragraph Scaffold

Write a structured paragraph answering the following: "To what extent was government propaganda the most important reason for the mass enlistment of 1914?"

- Thesis Statement: Establish your main argument (e.g., While state propaganda created the initial momentum, economic reality and local community ties were more decisive...)
- Factual Evidence: Provide specific knowledge (e.g., Pompey Pals, a shilling a day, white feathers...)
- Counter-Perspective: Acknowledge the alternative historian's view (However, as historian Catriona Pennell argues, it would be reductive to ignore the genuine moral outrage over...)
- Evaluation: Conclude by weighing the factors against each other to form a final historical judgment.

L2: Did British generals make the horror of trench warfare worse?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- ☐ Analyze the conditions of trench warfare.
- ☐ Evaluate historical interpretations of General Haig.

Vocabulary Check

Write a historically accurate sentence connecting two terms from the glossary box below.

Attrition | Artillery | No Man's Land | Trench Foot | Causation

Your Sentence:

Q1. Part A: Task

Part A: Core Comprehension 1. Why did the Western Front become a stagnant deadlock by the winter of 1914? 2. Describe two physical challenges soldiers faced inside the Western Front trenches. 3. Why did General Douglas Haig believe the infantry could easily walk across No Man's Land on July 1, 1916? 4. What were the British casualty figures for the first day of the Battle of the Somme?

Q2. Part B: Task

Part B: Conceptual Analysis 5. Causation: Why did the deep, concrete-reinforced bunkers built by the German army cause the British offensive on the Somme to fail? 6. Historical Interpretations: Explain why popular history books might refer to British soldiers as "Lions led by Donkeys" during the First World War. 7. The "IDEA" Paragraph Scaffold: Write a structured paragraph explaining whether General Haig deserves to be remembered as the "Butcher of the Somme." Use Identify, Describe, Explain, Analyse.

Q3. Part C: Paper 1 Key Features

1a. Describe one feature of early military aircraft. (2 marks)

1b. Describe one feature of trench warfare. (2 marks)

Q4. Part D: The Pity of War

How does Wilfred Owen's description of a gas attack completely destroy the message of Jessie Pope's 'Who's for the Game?'

Q5. Part E: Task

*Part C: Contemporary Source Analysis 8. Study Source A. Why should a historian exercise caution when using the memoirs of a former politician like David Lloyd George to evaluate General Haig's competence?

Q6. Part F: Source Analysis (Utility):

How useful is Source C for a historian studying the physical conditions of trench warfare? Use the source's content and its provenance (who wrote it and when) in your answer.

Q7. Part X: Task

9. Open your browser and search for the "1916 Battle of the Somme cinema film". Research how British audiences reacted when this real, uncensored footage of the front line was shown in local cinemas in 1916. Write down their reactions. 10. Look up "WWI whale oil trench foot prevention". Write a brief paragraph explaining the strict daily foot care routines officers forced soldiers to perform to maintain army health in wet conditions. 11. Search for "General Haig modern revisionist defense". Find and write down one argument made by a modern historian defending Haig's overall strategy on the Western Front.

Q8. Part X: Source Utility

Study Source A (the photograph of the flooded trench).

How useful is Source A for an inquiry into the conditions on the Western Front? (8 marks)

Q9. Part X: Evaluating Interpretations

Study Interpretation 1 (a historian writing in 2014 stating: 'The British high command callously ignored the horrific conditions of the mud').

How far do you agree with Interpretation 1 about the attitude of the high command? Explain your answer. (16 marks + 4 SPaG)

L3: How much of a 'World' War was it, and why were the Empire's troops forgotten?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- ☐ Recognize the global nature of the conflict.
- ☐ Understand the racial barriers faced by colonial troops.

Vocabulary Check

Write a clear definition and a historically accurate sentence for the term: Eurocentric

Q1. Part A: Core Factual Recall

1. How many men did the British Indian Army contribute to the First World War?
2. What crucial role did Indian troops play on the Western Front in late 1914?
3. What was the British West Indies Regiment (BWIR), and how many men served in it?
4. Why did soldiers of the BWIR mutiny in Taranto, Italy, in 1918?

Q2. Part B: Key Features

Describe one feature of the British Empire's contribution to the First World War. (2 marks)

Q3. Part C: The Forgotten Workforce

Why do you think the 140,000 men of the Chinese Labour Corps were deliberately left out of the victory parades and historical memory?

Q4. Part D: Source Utility

Study Source A (the photograph of the British Indian Army).

How useful is Source A for an inquiry into the global nature of the First World War? (8 marks)

Q5. Part E: Evaluating Interpretations

Study Interpretation 1 (David Olusoga's text arguing that the contribution of imperial troops was deliberately marginalized in post-war memory to preserve racial hierarchies).

How far do you agree with Interpretation 1 about the memory of the Empire's contribution? Explain your answer. (16 marks + 4 SPaG)

Q6. Part F: The "Judgement & Nuance" Paragraph Scaffold

Write a structured paragraph answering the following: "To what extent was the First World War a 'global' rather than a 'European' conflict?"

- Thesis Statement: Establish your main argument (e.g., Although the most famous battles took place in Europe, the war was fundamentally a global conflict because...)
- Factual Evidence: Provide specific knowledge (e.g., 1.5 million Indian troops, the BWIR, fighting in Mesopotamia and East Africa, the Taranto mutiny...)

- Counter-Perspective: Acknowledge why the European view exists (However, looking at Interpretation A, it is understandable why the traditional view is Eurocentric, given that the Western Front saw the highest concentration of casualties...)
- Evaluation: Conclude by using Olusoga's concept of "historical amnesia" to explain why remembering the global contribution is essential to understanding the true reality of the war.

Q7. Part X: Source Analysis:

1. Why might mid-20th-century textbooks (Interpretation A) have ignored the story of Khudadad Khan and the Taranto Mutiny?
2. According to Interpretation B, why did the British Empire deliberately construct the narrative of a 'white man's war'?

L4: How did a war fought miles away completely control daily life in Britain?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

☐ Understand the concept of 'Total War' and government control.

☐ Analyze the changing social status and experiences of women.

Vocabulary Check

Write a short paragraph using at least FOUR of the vocabulary words below correctly.

Total War | Defense of the Realm Act (DORA) | Conscientious Objector | Conscription | Priddy's Hard

Q1. Part A: Core Factual Recall

1. What does the term "Total War" mean?

2. What was the Defense of the Realm Act (DORA)?

3. Why did the British government introduce conscription in January 1916?

4. Why were women working at depots like Priddy's Hard nicknamed "Canary Girls"?

Q2. Part B: Source Utility

Study Source A (the painting of the Munitionettes).

How useful is Source A for an inquiry into the impact of the war on women? (8 marks)

Q3. Part C: A Question of Bravery

Many people in 1916 believed Conscientious Objectors were cowards. How could you argue that it actually took immense bravery to be a 'Conchie'?

Q4. Part D: Evaluating Interpretations

Study Interpretation 1 (Arthur Marwick's text arguing that the war permanently liberated women).

How far do you agree with Interpretation 1 about the impact of the war on women? Explain your answer. (16 marks + 4 SPaG)

Q5. Part E: The "Judgement & Nuance" Paragraph Scaffold

Write a structured paragraph answering the following: "To what extent did the First World War lead to a permanent change in the social status of British women?"

- Thesis Statement: Establish your main argument (e.g., While the First World War temporarily gave women unprecedented financial independence, the permanent social changes were highly limited...)
- Factual Evidence: Provide specific knowledge (e.g., Canary Girls, TNT, 800,000 workers, 1918 Representation of the People Act...)
- Counter-Perspective: Acknowledge the optimistic view (Looking at Interpretation A, historians like Marwick argue the war was an engine of change that shattered Victorian myths...)
- Evaluation: Conclude using Braybon's revisionist perspective to explain why the changes were mostly an illusion (women were fired in 1919 and the young factory workers did not get the vote).

Q6. Part F: Source Analysis:

Looking at Source D, why did the British government use DORA to mandate the strict censorship of soldiers' letters home? (Give two specific reasons).

L5: Did the Treaty of Versailles solve the problems of 1914, or create the nightmares of 1939?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- ☐ Understand the harsh terms imposed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles, including Article 231.
- ☐ Analyze conflicting historiographical interpretations of the Treaty.

Vocabulary Check

Write a historically accurate sentence connecting two terms from the glossary box below.

Armistice | War Guilt Clause (Article 231) | Reparations | Diktat

Your Sentence:

Q1. Part A: Core Factual Recall

1. What was the "Armistice" of November 11, 1918?
2. Identify three military restrictions placed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles.
3. Why did the German people refer to the Treaty of Versailles as a "Diktat"?

Q2. Part B: Key Features

Describe one feature of the military restrictions placed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles. (2 marks)

Q3. Part C: Source Utility

Study Source A (the political cartoon).

How useful is Source A for an inquiry into the fairness of the Treaty of Versailles? (8 marks)

Q4. Part D: Evaluating Interpretations

Study Interpretation 1 (John Maynard Keynes arguing the economic reparations were too harsh and would ruin Europe).

How far do you agree with Interpretation 1 about the Treaty of Versailles? Explain your answer. (16 marks + 4 SPaG)

Q5. Part E: The "Judgement & Nuance" Paragraph Scaffold

Write a structured paragraph answering the following: "To what extent was the Treaty of Versailles an unfair settlement that guaranteed a future war?"

- Thesis Statement: Establish your main argument (e.g., While the Treaty of Versailles deeply humiliated the German public, modern historians argue it was not as unfairly harsh as traditionally believed...)
- Factual Evidence: Provide specific knowledge (e.g., Article 231, £6.6 billion in reparations, 100,000 men...)
- Counter-Perspective: Acknowledge the traditional view (Looking at Interpretation A, contemporaries like Keynes argued that destroying the German economy would lead to disaster...)
- Evaluation: Conclude by using MacMillan's revisionist perspective to explain why the treaty's failure might have been more about enforcement than the actual terms.

Q6. Part F: Source Analysis:

How does the German political cartoon (Source E) reflect the German public's attitude toward the Treaty of Versailles? Refer specifically to the concept of the 'Diktat' and the Big Three.

L6: How did the "Lost Generation" impact the village of Stubbington?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

☐ Understand the scale of the "Lost Generation" and how it affected local communities.

☐ Apply the concept of micro-history to understand the human cost of the war.

Vocabulary Check

Write a clear definition and a historically accurate sentence for the term: Commemoration

Q1. Part A: Core Factual Recall

1. Where was the Stubbington War Memorial erected in 1922?

2. How many local names from Stubbington and Hill Head are carved into the memorial?

Q2. Part B: Conceptual Analysis (Micro-History)

Why is the story of the three Lowry brothers historically significant when studying the impact of the First World War?

Q3. Part C: The "Judgement & Nuance" Paragraph Scaffold

Write a structured paragraph answering the following: "To what extent do local war memorials provide a more accurate picture of the First World War than military statistics?"

Q4. Part D: Historical Investigator (Masterclass Extension Tasks)

Instructions: Choose one of the five historical investigation tasks below. Use the provided web links and your source packs to uncover the hidden realities of the Stubbington fallen.

Path 1: The 1911 Census (Bringing the Names to Life)

War memorials only give us names and initials. To understand what the village actually lost, we need to see who these men were before the war.

- Your Task: Using the provided 1911 Census records for the Lowry family, find out the following: How old were the brothers? What were their jobs? Who else lived in the house? Write a short paragraph explaining how reading the census changes the way you look at the names on the memorial.
- Scaffolding Tip: Look closely at the "Occupation" column. Were they farm laborers, shop workers, or tradesmen? Think about how their sudden absence would impact the village's daily life and economy.
- Helpful Link: The National Archives: 1911 Census Guide

Path 2: Mapping the Tragedy

During the war, entire streets could be plunged into mourning in a single day.

- Your Task: Select ten names from the Stubbington memorial. Using the Commonwealth War Graves Commission website to find their home addresses, plot them on a historical map of Fareham/Stubbington from the 1910s.
- Scaffolding Tip: Do you notice any clusters? Are there multiple casualties on the same street? Write a sentence explaining what it would have felt like to be a postman delivering telegrams on that street in 1916.
- Helpful Link: National Library of Scotland: Side-by-Side Historic Maps

Path 3: Decoding the Commonwealth War Graves (CWGC)

Historians use death records like detective clues to figure out where and how men fought.

- Your Task: Search for the Lowry brothers on the CWGC database. Look at their date of death and the name of the cemetery or memorial where they are listed (e.g., the Thiepval Memorial or the Menin Gate).

- Scaffolding Tip: If a soldier died in July 1916 and is listed on the Thiepval Memorial, they almost certainly died at the Battle of the Somme. If they died in late 1917 near Ypres, it was likely Passchendaele. Write down which major battles the Stubbington men were caught in based on your findings.
- Helpful Link: Commonwealth War Graves Commission Database

Path 4: Evaluating the Memorial Design

Most towns built statues of soldiers with rifles or giant stone crosses. Stubbington built a wooden shelter over a water pump.

- Your Task: Write a visual analysis of the Stubbington War Memorial. Why do you think the designer (a grieving mother) chose a water pump shelter rather than a glorifying statue of a soldier?
- Scaffolding Tip: Think about what a water pump represents (community, life, civilian utility) versus a soldier statue (combat, glory, military). What does this tell us about how the local community wanted to remember their dead?

Path 5: The Missing Voices (Historiography)

War memorials only record the dead, meaning the "visible" history often masks the invisible trauma of the survivors.

- Your Task: Challenge yourself to consider who is not on the memorial. Are there men from Stubbington who survived but returned with severe shell shock or missing limbs?
- Scaffolding Tip: Write a short paragraph explaining why relying solely on a war memorial might give a historian an incomplete picture of how the war actually impacted a village like Stubbington.
